

Google Maps Reminiscence

There are other ways that you can help someone to reminisce about their pasts than just looking at photos. Google is a great way to be more interactive and to help the person tell you different stories. It is a great way to talk about holidays that you've been on or homes that you have lived in. (Remember that places will probably look different from many years ago).

What you will need:

- An iPad/computer/laptop (phone if this is all you have)

What you need to do:

- Get google maps up through your search engine <https://www.google.co.uk/maps>
- You may have some ideas about where your loved one has lived or been on holiday so you can pick your favourite places together. Type the name of the place or postcode if you know it into the map search bar in the top left of the screen

- Left click on the yellow man in the right hand of the screen and drag and drop him to where you want to go (yellow arrow). The roads will highlight in blue – blue arrow (if they don't it means that you can't go into that part of the map)

Wayfinding Service 01243-888-691 dementia-support.org.uk

- You can move round the map using the arrow (red arrow) so that you can look about until you find what you are looking for or to travel around inside the map.
- Drop on blue line to see 'real-view'
- Move forward or back
- Turn around

