

I work with patients

What careers are there for me in the NHS?

Some of our faves!

Paramedic

Someone who gives emergency medical care to a patient before they are taken into hospital.

Midwife

Someone who cares for mothers throughout the different stages of pregnancy and cares for the newborn at child birth.

Doctor

Depending of the field they are in, they will be diagnosing, treating and looking after patients. (There are lots of different types of doctors, so check out our website to see which one suits you and how to get into as the career pathway is different).

What do the people in those careers think of it?

// I love being a paramedic as no two days are the same. I get to work with a brilliant team of colleagues and see all sorts of people every day. It is never boring and you never know what you will see next. Sometimes it is tough, with long hours or tragic accidents to attend, but I love it!
- Paramedic //

How do I get into the field?

A-levels

Or BTEC, biology and chemistry recommended

University

1st or 2:1 at degree level in a related subject

Scientist training programme

GCSE's

5 GCSE's level 4-9

Practitioner training programme

On a course related to the job