Congratulations Colum

On Saturday 12th January Colum received his embalmers certificate from the National President of the British Institute of Embalmers, Barbara Fowley. Well done Colum.

Wednesday is duvet day

Having worked full time all my working life, (no children = no maternity leave !) it has been agreed for me to reduce my working week to four days and the occasional Saturday morning. Reducing my working week will give me the opportunity to pursue some latent hobbies, spend more time with mum and have a lie in. Wednesday will generally be my day off but there will be some flexibility but Chloe will be using my office on my day off.

The industry has changed immeasurably since I qualified as an embalmer (in 1977) and gained the DipFD in 1979 but I still remain passionate about it. It is hard to believe that my early days, training with the Co-Op in Birmingham, we had just three coffins in the range, one solid for burial, one veneer for burial or cremation and one covered in a violet flock material solely for cremation. The 40 + we have in our range here is still not enough for some families.

Christmas at Littleover

from Angela Bembridge

In December Littleover office welcomed The Travelling Nativity organised by St Peter's Church. The nativity visited as many homes and businesses in the parish as possible during the month with Mary, Joseph and Donkey's diary being completed each day by the custodian and photos added to create a visual time line for their journey (which was then shared each week in church).

I was also pleased to deliver the items donated for the Littleover reverse advent calendar. I am very proud of the amount donated by families we have served and friends. The church has a room bursting with donated items that will be delivered to the local food bank for distribution.

A massive thank you to all who donated!

Finger Print Spoon

from Jackie Lynn Rose

Thank you to David from Life Expressions UK for helping to create this finger print spoon, which I gave to Sheila on Christmas Day.

A. W. Lymn to the rescue!

from Jim Cullen

As many of you may know I work as a rigger along side my casual contract with A. W. Lymn.

On Friday 28th December I was working on the Elf show at the Motorpoint Arena in Nottingham and realised there was a problem with one of the acts that was going to be performing during the show.

If anyone went to see the show, on the left of the stage there was a large swing contraption on which some acrobats perform some really incredible stunts.

However...

Between Birmingham and Nottingham a integral bolt on the swing had been lost.

Coming from Eastern Europe, with the acrobats, the bit that was missing was an imperial 9/16ths nut.

The Production manager literally had all the crew making phone calls to source a replacement as far afield as Bedford.

There weren't many engineering or tool places open between Christmas and New Years so our options were limited.

I suddenly thought of Luke and the fleet of vintage vehicles, if anyone is likely to have a box of "spares", I was sure Luke would be the man!

I called and was told "I'm sure we can help. Pop over." After a couple of minutes of rummaging through boxes of random nuts and bolts. Hey presto!! Said nut was found!

We have a saying in the entertainment industry 'the show must go on' and it does. Every time. This time only with the help of Luke and A. W. Lymn.

The production manager was impressed that we had sorted the problem very quickly with the minimum of expense. He was so pleased he gave Luke two tickets for the show!

I'm proud to be part of the A. W. Lymn company and even more so that we could do something relatively small to make something very big happen with the minimum of fuss. This made a lot of children very happy at Christmas time.

A. W. Lymn to the rescue!

Dear Colum

On behalf of the PCC of the Parish of Ollerton with Boughton, we would like to say thank you to Lymns Funeral Directors for their generosity in donating £300 towards the heating for local schools to have their special festive services in the church as they have done in previous years.

We have made known and will continue to make known your generosity to the local community.

Many thanks for the different ways in which we partner and work together as we serve members of this local community.

68 children from Mansfield aged 3-17 who have either severe or profound and multiple learning difficulties, and many have additional complex medical needs will watch a show entitled Dick Whittington performed by a visiting theatre company. The cost of the show is £1,078.80

I shall send you some feedback in due course.

This experience will help to improve their sensory awareness and their social and communication skills, and have fun and excitement, not to forget the educational value also. This activity will enable the children to take part in an activity which is more often enjoyed by the wider community, thereby promoting social inclusion.

All the experiences we help to arrange are designed to help the children with their future development, as they move forward into adulthood with new confidence.

Please accept my deepest gratitude for your kind and invaluable support in allowing us to help some of the most vulnerable children in our society to ensure that they are not a forgotten audience.

Dear Mr. Lymn Rose and Trustees,

Overall winner of 'Best Practice of the Month' 2018

It is time to vote for the overall winner who will receive a £250 reward.

Here is a reminder of the winners that are now eligible to win.

David Crampton 'We were asked if we would supply a Rolls-Royce to take Santa to his Grotto at Toton Tram Stop, where he was raising money for Forever Stars. David Crampton drove and asked us to donate his fee for driving to Forever Stars.'

Gary Wagstaff 'On arrival at a cemetery we realised that the grave had not been excavated to the requested length, the groundsman was completely fazed and ran off for a shovel (eventually came back empty handed). Gary retrieved a shovel from the hearse and, in front of mourners and priest, extended the grave with dignity and prowess. The rest of the team held the coffin securely whilst he did so.'

Pete Jeffery 'Pete built and tiled a vault in just over a day after Doncaster Council said they could not manage it, and a travelling family were about to be let down'

David Powell 'Helping to cap a vault by getting into it, when the slabs were extremely heavy.'

Dick Stead 'for retiring after 49 years and 11 months of service'

Julia Carty 'her flexibility and "can do" attitude at the drop of a hat.'

Sharon Allen 'On a home visit (outside of hours) the client was unwell. Sharon rang the clients doctor who told her to take the client down to the surgery immediately! The client has now fully recovered and was able to telephone to thank Sharon for all her help.'

Donna Conroy 'She dropped everything to take Artur to hospital after he cut the end of his finger off.'

Anne Cooke 'Agreed to cover the uniform orders and temporarily take back the stationery work whilst a new member of staff was appointed. She did a great job keeping things ticking over and worked the extra hours required to make sure everything got done. Her help was hugely appreciated.'

Sarah Derbyshire 'Her imagination in coming up with new window ideas is great! Every month there is something a little bit different to grab the attention of those passing by.'

Neville Carridice and Peter Park 'A celebrant mentioned, having lost her poppy pin badge, that she had concerns over delivering a service without one on display. Peter went to try and find it, but could not. Neville then stepped forward, removed his pin and handed it over for the celebrant to wear.'
